Professor Barker Fairley,
University of Alberta.

Dear Professor Fairley:

I am glad to inform you that the Board of Governors of the University has accepted my nomination and has appointed you Associate Professor of German in University College at a salary of twenty-five hundred dollars a year, the appointment in accordance with President Tory's telegram to begin from the first of August, 1915.

Our regulations are that there is a statutory increase of one hundred dollars until three thousand dollars is reached, which is now the regular limit of the associate grade. I am not able to guarantee that the increase will be given next year as war conditions are such that it is possible that the statutory increases may not be given, but all will share alike in this matter.

I believe that there is a good prospect ahead of you in the University in the Department of German, particularly when the war is over. With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.

Dear President Falconer,

I beg to acknowledge with many thanks your kind letter of July 6th, confirming my appointment as Associate Professor of German in University College from August 1st.
I consider myself complimented by your offer and hope to make myself a satisfactory servant of the institution.
My present plan is to arrive in Toronto
before the end of August.

Yours sincerely

Barker Fairley
